

Patent law firm in India – criteria to consider when hiring one

It is critically important that the right patent law firm in India is appointed to get patents approved and have the intellectual property protected. The relationship between the client and the law firm is a long-term relationship. When appointing a patent lawyer, a lot of due diligence needs to be ensured. It is critically important to hire the right attorney for all your patent and intellectual property needs.

How does a patent law firm help?

The law firm assists during the patent filing applications. They advise on benefits, risks, advantages, and costs. They help you in protecting the invention of inventors in India and different countries.

1. Legal Experience

- Experience in handling patent filings is an important aspect.
- Does the firm have the required license?
- Is the firm having a credible reputation, amongst its industry peers as well as amongst its clientele?
- Does the firm have expertise in litigation or prosecution?
- What is the number of patent applications filed by the law firm every year?
- The success rate of the law firm.
- What kind of value add-ons the firm has been able to offer the clients?
- Is the firm experienced in international patent jurisdiction?

Technical Experience

Patent attorneys and lawyers need to have relevant experience in the technological field and most often, academically proficient in a certain technical field. So, if you are developing an innovative product in the pharmaceutical field, you would want to be represented by a law firm that is experienced in this particular domain. You need to understand -

- The experience of the firm in your particular field of innovation.
- What is the qualification of the lawyer in a particular technical field?

1. Work Process

What is the process that is followed to get the patent filing done? So, you need to make sure before hiring a patent law firm in India about the workflow and process.

- Who is the lawyer or the attorney who would be handling your case?
- Do you have a big team or a small team?
- Do you always represent corporate bodies and universities or individual and independent inventors too?
- What is the process that you follow while filing a patent?

Costs

It is important that the attorney transparently shares the costs and billing policy upfront with you.

References

Check for reviews, testimonials, and references so that you are sure about your choice.

Url - <https://www.obhanandassociates.com/practice-areas/intellectual-property/patents/>